SIX PERSONS TO RECEIVE NEW BURIAL

Bodies Of Members Of Abandoned Jewish Colony Brought to City

In order that they may rest in "Kever Yisroel," or in a Jewish cemetery, the bodies of six persons, members of the ill-fated Jewish colony which was established at Montserrat, near Three Forks, about 200 miles south-east of Edmonton on the Alberta-Saskatchewan border in 1908, have been disinterred from unmarked graves on a private farm, brought to Edmonton, and will be buried in the Jewish cemetery here.

The funeral service for them will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday from Connolly and McKinnon's chapel. It is expected that a large number of Jews will attend the service.

The colony, founded by 72 Jews who came to Canada from Russia, abandoned in 1922. During the years of its existence six persons, Lester Ullman, Chaim Segal, David Sterling, and three infants died and were buried on the premise.

ARRANGING ITS MAIRIE
Several Ullmans, of Lester Ullman, went to the United States after the community was deserted, but became successful in business at Los Angeles. Recently he had arrangements with the Jewish community of the Edmonton Chevra Kadisha, a Jewish burial society, for the removal of the bodies of his father and friends to the Jewish cemetery here.

Lester Ullman was a leader in the community, took an active part in politics in the district, and was an ardent supporter of educational improvements and development in Alberta.

May Be Envoy

Mr. Longman, by appointment as ambassador to a major diplomatic post, Mrs. Charles D. Brody, pictured above in court dress, has been recommended by the chairman of the United States Foreign Relations Committee, for the embassy post at Moscow, recently vacated by the transfer to Russia of Joseph E. Davies, former U.S. ambassador to the Soviet.

"I can't say anything about the best ever, but there have been only three or four years in our history when they have been as good as this year," said O. S. Longman, Alberta field crops commissioner.

"Prospects are exceedingly good, but as usual we have got June rains and severe damage from the hot July winds."

Mr. Longman, the most technical agriculturist, stresses the danger periods facing the wheat crop during the 100 to 150 days separating seeding and threshing.

Great immediate danger is soil drifting. Mr. Longman says, and this will persist until the wheat is well under the ground, which depends upon prevailing growing weather.

EXCELLENT MOISTURE
Places where soil drifting was common in previous years in the south-east corner of the province, this year have excellent moisture conditions and soil drifting damage was negligible.

Over the range area to the general situation has improved with no better rains. Kerosene interest in being shown in the new fodder crop. Alberta has sponsored the wheat acreage in the province this year will total 102,000 acres, or 22 per cent above the 1937 figure.

MAJOR BACKS HOUSING PLAN FOR EDMONTON
Says Council Will Consider Question When Further Facts Available

Whereabouts supporting a 1938 home-building program for Edmonton, Mayor John W. Fry declared Saturday that while the assurance that low-interest federal loans would be available for this purpose and providing the provincial government's two per cent guarantee would not impose a financial strain on the operation of this project, there was still a question as to whether the city should launch a substantial housing program.

"This question will be discussed by city council as soon as we get more definite information from Ottawa on the amount which Edmonton is likely to receive for a home-building scheme, and on what basis the plan is to be operated," the mayor said.

"We have been assured that low-interest money will be available to municipalities under new legislation which the Dominion government is considering. Lending of this money to cities is a new departure by Ottawa authorities, as

Flame-Spitting Chinese War Tanks Lead Huge Jap Counter-Offensive

Light at Long Last—

Editorial

THE announcement of Prime Minister the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, that the Bank of Canada is to be completely nationalized during this session of the House of Commons is by far the most important statement that has been made in the Dominion of Canada since Confederation.

The proposed legislation will place the currency and credit resources of the nation under the direct control of our national government. It signifies the successful culmination of the revolt against orthodox finance and classical economy. In a word, the nationalization of the Bank of Canada means that the control over the issue of currency and credit is being transferred from irresponsible bankers to responsible government where it properly belongs.

The statement of the Prime Minister is a clear indication that the Government is ready to grapple with Canada's money problems. The nationalization of Canada's central bank is the first step in the establishment of a managed currency system in the Dominion that will place at the disposal of the government the financial resources of the nation for purposes of national development.

In Canada our federal government, our provincial governments, and our civic administrations, are desperately in need of spending power. The growing demand for advanced social services, the needs of housing and civic reconstruction, the necessary rehabilitating of our railways, the expansion and improvement of our airways and our highways, and the demands for national defence services, are only a few instances of the many that could be enumerated that require heavy capital expenditures.

Private Control Fails Lamentably

Unfortunately the private control of our national currency and credit has failed lamentably to provide the expansion of currency and credit that was required to sustain Canadian progress and Canadian growth.

The drought in Canadian finance should now end, for the nationalization of Canada's central bank will place directly under our national government the responsibility of maintaining the circulation of Canada's financial resources as a public utility service to the nation and people of the Dominion.

In Canada we are coming to know that a failure to secure an adequate increase in the circulating volume of our medium of exchange puts a brake upon business of every kind and produces unemployment, unremunerative commodity prices, unbalanced budgets, debt repudiation and general depression.

We are learning also that an expansion of money in actual circulation is essential to the enjoyment of leisure and those higher standards of living that science has brought within the realm of human privilege.

Most Outstanding Lesson Of Slump

The most outstanding lesson of the slump is to be found in the profound change that it has produced in ideas about monetary policy. Intelligent management of national currency and credit has proven the world over to be the key to economic prosperity and social progress.

The nationalization of the Bank of Canada will place in the hands of the government of the Dominion the power to fulfill its constitutional obligation of managing Canada's currency and credit resources in terms of national development, and also in terms of the social, commercial and industrial needs of the Canadian people.

From now on the issue of currency and credit in terms of public need rather than in terms of private gain will be a direct duty and responsibility of the national government.

The statement of the Prime Minister indicates the dawn of a new era of Canadian development and prosperity.

Sick And Homeless Man Unaware Heir Millions

LANSING, Mich., May 28.—Claude J. Denis, sick and homeless welfare recipient, is wandering about Michigan unaware he is heir to a $20,000,000 estate.

His 32-year-old former automobile manufacturing company employee disappeared last April 13 from the Michigan county infirmary where he had been sent by welfare officials, who said he was unemployed and needed medical treatment for a heart ailment. He walked away from the infirmary.

C. H. Bennett, director of the Michigan bureau of home-lessness and starvation, presumes that Denis fled before being discharged from the Michigan infirmary to help find the missing man at request of H. J. Moreland, an investigator for the Montreal law firm.

Fighting At Lanfeng Is As Intensive And Grim As Any In 10 Months Of Conflict.

SHANGHAI, May 28.—Flame-spitting tanks led a Chinese counter-offensive that turned scattered fighting along the Lungt'ai railway today into one of the major battles of the Chinese-Japanese war.

Both sides declared the fighting at Lanfeng, 40 miles west of Nanjing, was as intensive and bloody as any in more than 10 months of conflict.

Chinese reported several villages had been taken and that 1,000 Japanese killed in fighting that spread along the railroad almost to Kweichow, 50 miles east of Lanfeng.

Thousands Injured When Planes Let Loose Death Missiles

HONG KONG, May 28.—Official estimates counted 300 persons killed and 1,000 injured today in Canton after day-long Japanese air raids on the crowded gateway of South China. Entire city blocks were reduced to ruins by the devastating raids.

The Japanese raiders were reported to have followed their attacks by machine-gunning rescue parties and to have killed 500 victims. Four persons were said to have been killed and 50 injured in the hail of machine-gun bullets.

The Japanese aimed concentrated fire at the Hong Kong-Canton railway line over which the Japanese have been pushing into Central China to fight the Japanese invaders. It has converted into a slaughter pit for four succeeding days.

Protection For Rail Workers Is Guaranteed

OTTAWA, May 28.—The statement made by Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, to the senate railway committee, that employee discipline on account of established procedure would be compensated, carried with it a guarantee that the railway workers would be protected from any action that might be taken by the government.

Sir Edward had, however, qualified his observations with the reminder that any compensation could not be made effective overnight. Mr. Beatty declared unquestionably for the shopcrafts that would be displaced and some unemployment, but that would be temporary in that adjustment would eventually arrive and permanent in that men would have to be removed from their present positions and established elsewhere.

The railway companies had taken care of their workmen, said Sir Beatty. He cited how regular locomotive workmen stood in the shops, unable to work had been done on them.

Montreal law firm Moreland came into the picture. Claude J. Denis had been taken to the Montreal law firm.

BRITAIN'S AIR DIFFICULTIES ARE INCREASING

Differences Are Expected To Be Reduced At An Early Date

By WEIR MILLER
British States Press Feature File to The Edmonton Bulletin
LONDON, May 28.—Great Britain's aviation difficulties are expected to be reduced at an early date. The government is expected to announce the results of the air raids precautions scheme which is now the main weak element in the country's defence against hostile air raids.

With the appointment of Sir Knapley Wood as an minister war plane operations are expected to be more efficient, and the most serious problem for the government to tackle is the vital question of air transport. SASKATCHEWAN BALLOT BATTLE NARROWS DOWN

Election Conceded To Be Between Liberals and Social Credit

REGINA, May 28.—As the provincial election campaign draws to its last hectic phase, it is becoming more and more apparent that the fight is between the Liberal party, led by James G. Gardiner, and the Social Credit organization of Premier William Abernethy of Alberta, and his newly organized Saskatchewan Social Credit party.

The C.C.F., aided by a number of Alberta leaders of that party, have been trying to create a false picture of the C.C.F. which they claim is a party of reactionaries, while Conservative leaders realize that their vote is going over to the Liberal party. Indications are that the Conservatives will be again in power in the legislature.

Interest in the election is at fever heat and one of the biggest votes of the year is expected to be decided of June 6.

Britain Adding To War Stocks Of Food, Oil

LONDON, May 28.—Great Britain is steadily adding to her war stocks of food and oil. A whale sales ring in Norway has sold 34,000 tons of whale oil—the balance of its stock—on 10,000 tons as the Irish Republican Army (IRA) claimed to have annihilated a division of the British army.

London Residence of King and Queen Prior to Accession for Rent

HUGE MANSION IN PICCADILLY HISTORIC SPOT

Lease is Yours For $1,000 a Month and Payment Of Taxes

By EDWIN JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON, May 28.—One of London's most historic homes, 145 Piccadilly, residence of King George and Queen Elizabeth for some years prior to their accession, is for rent.

Since the four-story stone mansion ceased to retain its "grace and favour" status, which means a tenancy in the personal gift of the King, the commissioners of crown lands, who control the property, have indicated willingness to consider offers for the lease. Prospective tenants are at liberty to use the house for a club, convert it into flats but no trade whatsoever will be permitted on the premises.

NO "TO LET" SIGN

So far there have been no outward signs of a rash of home-seekers or other likely clients, but this may be due to the fact no "to let" sign has been displayed on the building.

"We'd have half London lining up to look over the house if there was a board," remarked the caretaker.

But if you are interested the lease is yours until 1973 for a monthly rental of approximately £300 ($1,000), exclusive of taxes which come to a substantial amount.

During the winter months the heat and light bills amount to about £1,000 a month and there are the salaries of the servants. A staff of 20 to 30 would be required to run the place.

Peace River On Annual Freshet

PEACE RIVER, May 28.—The Peace river has taken a rapid rise apparently from melting snows in the mountains as there has not been sufficient rainfall to cause any rise. Some heavy rain has struck portions of the district during the week, in some narrow strips amounting to a deluge. A heavy rainfall is needed in several sections of this district.

When Hearse Drives Up Ben Could Get Real Hot

TORONTO, May 28.—Ben Gould said today he was getting mad.

He doesn't mind the odd automobile calling at his home at 230 am, or having 30 taxis dash up to his door in one day, all on fake calls, but there is a limit. Ben decided to call the police to investigate calls which lately have sent fire equipment, undertakers' vans, gas company emergency trucks, hydro emergency trucks, laundries, humane society trucks and the board of health to his home.

Besides all that a glue company came to cart away a dead horse Ben was supposed to have owned. A Jewish parrot called to credit, candidates elected to Gordon, Liberal standardbearer in the Wilkie-Cutcliffe constituency for the forthcoming Saskatchewan provincial election, claimed that it was time the people of Saskatchewan came down from out of the skies and tackled the present condition. Social Credit in Alberta had failed to make one of their pre-election promises good. Their speakers are now doing wild promises in Saskatchewan, hoping that the people will believe them. PROGRESS IS REPORTED ON UNITY WORK

RED DEER, May 28.—Satisfactory progress in organization in the Red Deer provincial constituency was reported at a meeting on Friday night of those interested in United political action. H. B. Gibson, of Red Deer, who presided, appealed for the fullest cooperation of every voter in the riding.

A number of pieces of work that had been accomplished was given by the provincial committee appointed at a meeting in April when the new movement first took form. They had covered about 75 per cent of the 51 polls in the constituency and were continuing the work. The intention was to have two delegates from each poll. When all these delegates are appointed a public meeting will be held. If the meeting is in favor nominations will be needed for a candidate.

Names of delegates for the seven polls in the city of Red Deer will be announced shortly. A tentative list has been prepared and a committee of three, J. E. Graham, H. B. Gibson and J. A. Arnot will interview the prospective delegates to find out if they will act.

If a suggestion made at the meeting is acted upon a study group will be formed in Red Deer to hold monthly meetings.

Despite the increase in the volume of traffic and in the number of vehicles registered, motor fatalities were down a sharp decrease in 47 of 66 key cities.

DENIS THORN WINS A.M.A. ESSAY PRIZE

17-year-old Edmonton Boy Has Fine Paper On "Safety First"

With only three points separating the first and third prize winner in the Safety-First contest sponsored by the Edmonton branch of the Alberta Motor Association in conjunction with the Edmonton Boys' and Girls' Fair, seventeen-year-old Denis Thorn, 1415 1st street, was given first prize over Zeon Sametis, 15, sub P.O. 12, Edmonton, who was placed second, and Mabel V. Lamberton, 15, 11336 31st street, third.

The object of the contest was to create in the minds of the younger people a consciousness and understanding of the serious effects of careless and inconsiderate driving on city streets and provincial highways.

The following is the text of the prize winning essay:

SAFETY FIRST

"Stop, Look and Listen"

How many times the warning has been repeated by parents but almost daily the newspapers press the necessity of the constant repetition of this admonition.

Speed is the spirit of the century and therefore it would be wise for pedestrians, as well as motorists, to take as their motto "Safety First". Ninety per cent of all accidents are the result of carelessness, whether it be carelessness on the part of the driver, or whether the carelessness was on the part of the pedestrian. There are perhaps two causes of the careless lack of the application of the Safety First rules, and the

Four Men Pack Wheat Sack Over New Pass

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C., May 28.—The story of four men who packed a 50-pound sack of Alberta wheat 120 miles through the Monksman Pass to nearby Kamloops, B.C., was told here Friday.

Led by Trapper Martin Framst, the men carried the sack of registered Marquis Crown wheat, grown by Arthur Smith's farm at Wembley, Alta., from Rio Grande, Alta., over the route of the proposed Monksman Pass highway.

Alex Monksman, Ted Chamber, Carl Brooks and Framst escaped drowning on their four-day journey while crossing the swift north fork of the McGregor river. It was there they were forced to abandon their pack horses and make the rest of the trip on foot.

The men left their sack of wheat and it was later brought here. It will be shipped to Vancouver.

Professor Paul Moving of the University of British Columbia faculty of agriculture had offered Smith one dollar a pound for the grain.

Bill Withdrawn

OTTAWA, May 28.—At suggestion of Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, Hon. C. M. Caban (Cons., St. Lawrence-St. George) last night withdrew his bill to abolish appeals to the judicial committee of the privy council, promising to introduce it again next year.

Children should be trained in safety. At the early stages, the child should be taught to stop before crossing the street, and look and wait until he is assured of a safe passage. He should be advised against hanging on to cars or trucks, for it is too easy to fall into the path of another.

All motorists should keep a sharp look-out and:

1—Obey all stop signs and traffic signals.

2—Learn and use the proper signals.

3—Do not trust in your right-of-way to protect you, the other fellow may have no brakes.

4—Do not skid around corners; apply the brakes slowly; don't jam them on.

5—Approach intersections slowly.

6—Have your brakes checked frequently.

7—Make sure that your head and tail lights are in perfect condition at all times.

8—Do not divert your attention to the latest non-stop issuing from the radio, to not talk or laugh while driving. You cannot function properly when you are in these conditions.

And finally, be courteous. Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.

RETURNING TO POOL SELLING IS CONSIDERED

By ROBERT K. TAYLOR
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CALGARY, May 28.—Law Hutchinson, chairman of the Alberta Wheat Pool, said today executive officials of the Saskatchewan and Alberta wheat pools were considering a return to a system of selling their grain through a Pool unless the Dominion government establishes a wheat board that will purchase wheat regardless of the price and sell it on a participation basis.

The present board will purchase wheat at 87½ cents a bushel basis No. 1 Northern, Fort William, if the open market price declines to 90 cents.

The Alberta Pool with its 42,000 members, had not decided whether to call a conference of delegates to discuss the subject, Hutchinson said, but executive officials were soundly out on members on what action would be advisable if the Dominion maintains the present wheat board system.

Hutchinson said Saskatchewan officials were considering seriously the possibility of selling their wheat together to take definite action.

The Festival

This year's Alberta music festival, competitions in which were concluded Friday night, reached a new peak in entries for any year in which this event has been held here. This must have been a source of unlimited satisfaction to the executive committee, as well as to concertants, and Edmonton music-lovers generally.

The festival was fortunate in having as the adjudicators Sir Hugh Robertson, distinguished conductor of the Orpheus Choir of Glasgow, and Maurice Jacobson of London, one of Britain's outstanding musicians.

The adjudicators took the helpful way throughout. They were warm in their praise when they felt praise was due, and when they felt criticism was needed, there was never anything rankling or discouraging in what they said.

After 31 years, it is most gratifying that the interest in the festival, from a competitive standpoint at least, is greater than ever.

Cruel and Dangerous

The absurdity of the Vancouver situation was surely made complete when 45 of the unemployed "strikers" against doctors were arrested for begging on the street corners.

But absurdity is not the only or the most important feature of the situation as thus developed. There is obviously also danger in it, danger of a kind that any normal person can see to be inevitable in such circumstances. The men, numbering about a thousand, are without prospect of employment, and have no money. They get no relief allowances. Now they are forbidden to beg. They are, it is said, not bona fide residents of Vancouver or of British Columbia, in large proportion.

Given a body of men in such a position, what can be expected to follow? What choice have they other than hunger and starvation? That they have no choice before this taken to burglary—or worse—is greatly to the credit of their self-restraint and self-imposed discipline. Any men deserve better treatment than they have received. Men who have done nothing worse than beg for bread, in such circumstances, are entitled not only to employment but to public respect.

Judged by their record upon a terrible test, these are good citizens of Canada. They should be given an opportunity to remain such, whatever red tape entanglements have to be torn away to make jobs available to them.

"Happy Days Are Here Again"

Throughout Alberta and Saskatchewan farmers must be feeling more cheerful than they have felt at this season for several years. There has been a sufficient supply of spring moisture over the two provinces generally, rather a surplus in some sections. The district immediately around Edmonton seems to have been less favored than others, but nobody here is worrying.

In the "dry" areas there has been little soil drifting and the grasshopper menace has been effectively reduced. Crops are growing well everywhere—an Aldridge farmer reports wheat nine inches high. Saskatchewan farmers are said to be comparing the present season with 1928, when the proceeds of the wheat crop ran to more than $400,000,000. Saskatchewan reports a revival of business in anticipation of good crops, and a return of residents who moved away in the drought years.

Saskatchewan's minister of agriculture, a technical agriculturist, says "There is some evidence to indicate that following a period of drought the productivity of our soil increases, even with the same amount of rainfall." Which in non-technical language seems to mean the soil yields more to gather strength during a period of rest, and a heavier than normal crop may be expected from a given amount of moisture.

Another week, it is said, will see the crops so far advanced generally that soil drifting cannot thereafter be serious and grasshopper damage cannot be severe. Wind due regard to the fact that there is no May, that harvest time is three months away, and that the western weather can work marvels in either direction—the present crop conditions in these provinces appear to be highly satisfactory, and farmers and businessmen in correspondingly hopeful mood.

The Best Job-Maker

There are a number of ways in which Edmonton could profitably use federal loan money which would meet the "re-liquitating" requirement. House-building takes precedence over all others from the standpoint of providing employment for local labor. There is no kind of construction work in which so large a proportion of the money spent goes to pay wages to men engaged directly on the job.

Highways are built by machinery. When a public building is put up a steam-shovel does the excavating and machinery and mass-production methods enter largely into the whole operation from start to finish. When a house is built from digging the cellar to putting on the roof, installing equipment and doing the decorating, local tradesmen and unskilled workmen do the work with comparatively little use of machinery. And of course back of them are an equal number of men working in factories and mills local or distant, and in mines and forests, getting out the raw materials and preparing these for use.

It is said men of more than thirty occupations are employed directly in putting up a modern house. It is this diversified employment Edmonton particularly needs to take up some of the idle labor, for the unemployed include builders of all classes and great numbers who are unskilled in any trade. There is no way in which Edmonton's council can so effectively attack the city's unemployment problem as by launching the long-delayed housing scheme.

The offer of Dominion loans with which to finance the project removes the last barrier to a prompt and aggressive move to build the houses for which people are clamoring, and without which there is no way of establishing proper and sanitary living conditions in the city. And against money so spent there will be a reduction in the cost of unemployment relief.

LONDON, Eng.—(By Mail)—The King is improving as a speaker and his speech is being well received by his subjects.

I have had a few years' police experience and I know that half the public like to tell the police how to do their work. However, I am not criticizing your paper, but offering a suggestion. I think our traffic on the sidewalks of downtown streets is terrible on a busy day. It reminded me of nothing so much as a swarm of ants crawling over a house, some are carrying loads and some are not, some are hurrying and some are looking at ants, you have to gaze a long time before you know which they are going or if they are going at all. In fact it looks like a highly-organized, but very inefficient, system.

I am always surprised at the variety of opinion which exists about the question of the bus.

"At some places I find young men and women in charge who are being conspicuously useful. At other places I find that they are employed with very little hope of improvement in their position. I have come to the conclusion that this diversity is due to a very narrow view of the character of our nation.

"As people reach our 'old-time' period at any age from 18 to 75, I think of no country where one can find such brilliant youngsters of 65 to 75 as in England, and few nations have been able to produce a prime minister as brilliant as Winston Pitt at the age of 40."

CAMPAGNS against aliens are not popular in this country, but the Beaverbrook press has no little justification for its insistence that a sharp eye should be kept on German residents.

The immigration of German and Austrian domestic servants, government and soldiers has increased enormously during the last year or two and there is no little suspicion that many of them are unwilling or unwilling, as spies.

In any event, Nazi policy insists that every German citizen be a good nationalist for the Nazi philosophy wherever it is and none may be allowed to come, if it can be prevented, unless their opinions are regarded as correct by the Nazi view of Mr. Goebbels.

The danger is that life will be made difficult here for refugees who have nowhere else to go and use of their own feelings wants that.

A year later, on the 28th of May, 1916, the corner stone was laid by Gen. Sir John French, who was, five years later, to take the leadership of Britain's army in France.

The unveiling event of this remarkable monument by a body of patriotic women came on June 6, 1912, when the late Queen, the Queen Mother, the Queen, when her majesty Queen Mary, the Queen Mother, at Buckingham Palace, was in attendance in far-off Stoney Creek.

Many from the country side turned out to see the unveiling of the monument. Later a book containing the names of the donors was published. The unveiling of the monument was the first of a series of events which were held in connection with the unveiling of the monument.

Dear Junior Author:
Well, are you all down to the last of your final exercises? They aren't very far away, and it means a lot if you come through with flying colors. But, to get away from that subject, which isn't altogether a happy one for some, how many of you have noticed evidence of spring? We could make up quite an interesting column on that. Here is a suggestion made to the Editor by a Junior's paper: Let's have a special column, and name it as that it will have something to do with gardening. Each Junior may send in as many things as he or she wishes to. They will be printed, and from these others may learn a thing or two. How about it? Let's have it. The letters and stories for this week:

Dear Junior Author:
Well, are you all down to the last of your final exercises? They aren't very far away, and it means a lot if you come through with flying colors. But, to get away from that subject, which isn't altogether a happy one for some, how many of you have noticed evidence of spring? We could make up quite an interesting column on that. Here is a suggestion made to the Editor by a Junior's paper: Let's have a special column, and name it as that it will have something to do with gardening. Each Junior may send in as many things as he or she wishes to. They will be printed, and from these others may learn a thing or two. How about it? Let's have it. The letters and stories for this week:

Dear Editor:
Since June 1 is near it is time to prepare for the final examinations. This leaves very little time for anything else. I am sending in a poem about school, and I hope you will like it. I made it in my spare time.

Intermediates are being completed for the holding of a summer training school for Russell leaders. It will be held every Wednesday night during July and August in the church basement. It is expected that about a dozen leaders will have attended the opportunity to increase their knowledge and get a few pointers. The summer session will be rapidly directed by Jack Brehm in a program well suited for further development and enlargement, if possible, of last year's success.

It was decided to send delegates to the Edmonton and District Boys' Work Board training next season. This is a new policy for the Russell group, and have never before always been clearly affiliated with the board in all matters of concern. An increase of two over this year's session will be held. It will be started with two groups of boys instead of eight. Ages will range from 12 to 16.

Director Brehm, in speaking of the training school this summer, said that the Russell group has advanced last year for many of its members. The Russell group has advanced last year for many of its members. The Russell group has advanced last year for many of its members.

At Garnett elementary and intermediate school one night recently, two plays were delightfully presented for public approval. The first, "Master Pierre Patein," a farce composed of 1484 by an anonymous author, was well received. Pierre Patein was played by Carl Hunter while Patein's wife, Guillemette, was taken by Margaret Hand. Elizabeth Campbell very ably portrayed the Draper, and Larry Judice, Little Lamkin, the Shepherd. Wilfred Walker was the other and important judge with Doris Bertie as his clerk. In the crowd scene were the following pupils: The Scholars—John Clark, Doris Drummond and Marion Moss; the Housewife—Wanda Finley, Bertha Jackson, Norma Fonger, the Housewife—Dorothy Baker, Lena and other judges that they desired to play. The Housewife—Dorothy Baker, Lena and other judges that they desired to play.

The second play, "Shivering Shocks," by C. D. Dunn, was written as the result of dramatic work of schoolboys. Clarence Dene presented just what appeared to be a very good thing, and very early, "a hero" cried in the War. The second play, "Shivering Shocks," by C. D. Foster Hewitt Has Made Millions of Friends

Sports Announcer Possesses Canada's Most Famous Voice

Edmontonians Will Get Chance to Meet Foster at Bulletin-Kiwanis Radio Theatre Revue Monday and Tuesday

Canada's dean of sports announcers, Foster Hewitt, who has made millions of friends throughout the Dominion with his "Hello Canada" hockey broadcasts during the playing season of the National Hockey League, will arrive in the city Monday morning, May 30, to master of ceremonies at The Edmonton Bulletin-Kiwanis club radio theatre revue, to be held at the Empire theatre Monday and Tuesday, May 30-31.

Accompanied by his wife, Mr. Hewitt left Toronto Friday and will reach the city at 6:30 a.m. Monday morning. A welcoming party will be at the Canadian National railway station to receive him, and will include members of the Kiwanis club. The Bulletin carrier-boy organization of over 500 boys and the Edmonton School Boys band with bandmaster Newell, and city officials. The arrival will be broadcast over radio station CFRN program starting about 6:45 a.m. Following the reception, there will be a street parade from the C.N.R. station to the Macdonald hotel.

The radio theatre revue will climax The Bulletin's three-month search for Talent Contest, which has enabled the city's gifted school children to appear on radio programs. Winners of the weekly contests and leading contestants will appear on the program at the Empire theatre, as well as several special artists and orchestras.

The entire proceeds of the show will be turned over to the Kiwanis Children's Home on 103 avenue and 126 street. The home is maintained by the Kiwanis club of this city for the purpose of providing care for children whose parents are temporarily unable to give them the proper attention.

Mr. Hewitt has volunteered his services for the cause and is making a special trip to Edmonton in order to aid the underprivileged children of Edmonton and district.

Foster Hewitt is known to thousands of Edmontonians but only by name and a voice. His other characteristics are virtually unknown, his appearance, his likes and dislikes, his rise to prominence in radio broadcasting, and his participation in the broadcasting world of Maple Leaf Gardens.

POURTRAIT OF FOSTER

In order that Edmontonians may know more of the man who possesses one of the most famous voices in Canada, when he greets his audience from the stage of the Empire theatre next Monday and Tuesday, here is a short portrait of Foster Hewitt.

He is slim and clean-cut, stands five feet six and a half inches in his socks, is 32 years old and weighs 135 pounds. His hair, brownish grey, is combed by a trim head of fair hair, accentuates a pair of serious blue eyes. The chin suggests quiet determination. The terrific wallop he packed in both gloves while Canadian intercollegiate lightweight champion, is reflected in the fact that he was unbeaten in eight years ring competition.

FAMILIAR VOICE

That wallop now finds expression in a voice, which is familiar to radio sport fans across Canada, United States and other countries. Foster is a graduate of Upper Canada college and the University of Toronto. While taking an art course at the university, he started searching for some medium that would suit his active athletic type of life. In 1921, when entering his third year at university, the answer came with dramatic suddenness.

Foster's father, William A. Hewitt, was at that time a well-known sports writer on one of the Toronto papers. It was also the time when radio was receiving its first trial from the experimental mind as a medium of public entertainment. Aerie of mind, his father realized the tremendous possibilities of radio in sports broadcasting. He was the first to see the possibilities of radio in sports broadcasting. He was the first to see the possibilities of radio in sports broadcasting. He was the first to see the possibilities of radio in sports broadcasting.

Snappy Dance Trio

To be presented for the first time in Edmonton at The Bulletin-Kiwanis Radio Theatre Revue, May 30 and 31, is the McDougall Imperial Trio, composed of Isabel McDougall, 15, Irvine, 16, and Danny, 18, who will do some of the snappy dance routines ever to be presented here. Recently coming to Edmonton from Calgary, the dancers were trained by Alice Murdoch of that city in the 30 routines which comprise their repertoire.

His father's enthusiasm took root in Foster's mind, so father and son travelled to the first radio show of the little boxes of glass and wire, and decided that his destiny lay in radio.

FIRST ATTEMPT FAILED

On leaving university, his first venture was in the merchandising field in Toronto, where he handled an agency for an American concern. This attempt failed, however, as a result of revolutionary developments in radio, so he had to start all over again.

He then joined the Independent Telephone company, which proved to be the first rung in his ladder of success. Talented and guided by Professor Culver, he quickly acquired a knowledge of the fundamental principles of broadcasting.

ANNOUNCED PROGRAMS

This broadcasting career, he assisted in the creation of part of the equipment used by CPGA, one of Toronto's first broadcasting stations and operated by an evening newspaper, and on finishing that task, began another by announcing the programs inaugurating the station.

That was in 1922. During the season of 1922-23, he made his first sports broadcast. It was a play-by-play description of a hockey game between Parkdale Crosse club and Kitchener seniors. The game still lives in his memory very vividly, one of the reasons being that it went into 30 minutes overtime.

Since 1922 he has described a wide range of sports, including hockey, wrestling, boxing, lacrosse, golf, rugby, soccer, ladies' softball, basketball and horse racing. He has also reported such events as the docking of the Empress of Britain, the arrival of the R-100, the Shriners' convention, the spectacle of the Detroit Olympiad, the reception of the Prince of Wales, the Little World Series of 1926, and Canadian National annual marathon swims, and other events too numerous to mention.

When the palatial Maple Leaf Gardens was only a blueprint, Foster received four offers from American radio stations, but rejected them. He saw greater possibilities in Toronto. His faith was fully justified, for he later became radio director of the Gardens.

HEAVY PROGRAM

To date he has broadcast over a thousand NHL, amateur, mercenary and junior hockey games. He has not only an intimate knowledge of the game itself, but he knows most of the players personally. In the past season he broadcast five days a week.

As a boy, Foster played practically every sport which he has described before the microphone. This boyhood ability in many branches of sport not only formed a factor in moulding his desire for a life's work, but serves him well in his selected profession. As interest in sport broadcasting steadily increased, Foster was in constant demand. Commercial not broadcasting, he can be found in his modest office in the Gardens, attending to the many duties that come under the jurisdiction of the radio director.

"You've got to keep yourself in shape, just like a hockey player," Foster stated in an interview. "I go to the 'Y' three times a week and have a workout and rub-down," he replied when questioned how he keeps in trim.

Another factor in hockey broadcasting that is given little consideration is protection against colds. A commentator can work up quite a fever during a broadcast, which always leaves him liable to the common malady. In illustrating the care he takes to avoid colds, he stated that he had had twelve infections in the arm as a precautionary measure.

"And I have not had a cold since," but I had better toughen up," he said with a grin.

"You have to cover the action before you accurately," he commented, when speaking on sports broadcasting in general, "or else a stream of protest will sweep you off your feet. People now are very critical in this respect. Those flowery phrases do not fill the bill and wisecracks are uncalled for."

His fan mail is always heavy and he receives many good luck letters. Every time the Maple Leafs make the playoffs, he receives anywhere from 20 to 40 rabbits' feet to distribute among the players. He is a little superstitious about broadcasting and believes in good can come from broadcasting with a hat on.

JACK TAYLOR WILL ASSIST RADIO REVUE

One of the feature attractions of the Bulletin-Kiwanis Radio Theatre Revue in the Empire May 30 and 31, is Jack Taylor and his Swingers, that well-known radio orchestra now playing at the Cameo Cabaret. Mr. Taylor and the boys are kindly donating their services to the show, proceeds of which will go to the upkeep of the Kiwanis Children's Home.

The Swingers have been in existence for about two years, and the orchestra consists of six pieces. They are: the saxophone played by Steve Synek; Wally Meyers, piano and accordion; Denny Babin, bass; Johnny Greenwood, drums; and vibraphone; Dick Taylor, guitar and vocal; Jack Taylor, guitar and leader.

NOVELTY ACT

We, Lorraine Hope, one of the contestants in The Bulletin's Search for Talent contest, will sing and dance to the music of Jack Taylor in a novelty act. Lorraine is only six years old but already given every indication that she is a real trouper. She has been a pupil of Jack Taylor for the past several months and those who attend the Revue will be able to see just what

Jack can do in the way of teaching the youngsters to "step".

LAUDS SEARCH

While talking to a Bulletin reporter, Jack told of what he thought of the Search for Talent. "I have watched it grow with interest," he said. "My work is such that I am not able to listen to the radio very often, but those girls I have heard and those for whom we played at the Strand theatre, show every promise of leaving their marks on the entertainment record."

"The contest is a fine thing, and I know of several young artists who have been helped immeasurably through it. If my boys and I can do anything to help make your show a success, then we shall be satisfied," Mr. Taylor concluded.

such parents are reluctant of the duties of looking after their children under circumstances make it hard for them to give the youngsters proper, healthful care. In the Kiwanis home the children receive care conducive to the development of good character as well as good health. It is possible to keep brothers and sisters together and keep the family intact.

CAREFUL CONSIDERATION

In the past year 92 children were admitted to the home and 81 discharged. Throughout the year, an average of 55 youngsters were always at the home.

ANOTHER CASE

Another case now being handled by the Kiwanis Club is that of a boy named John, who is about three years old and whose mother has been unable to care for him. The club has taken him into its home and is now caring for him.

SCORES OF LETTERS

On the subject of the children's home, the club has received scores of letters from people who are interested in the work. These letters are being read to the club at its meetings.

EMERGENCY CASES

In one instance, a mother who had been drinking and was unable to care for her child, the club took the child into its home and is now caring for him.

Many children come to the home, who have never seen their father or mother before. These children are usually in need of help, and the club is glad to take them in.

Edmonton Kiwanians Have Live-Wire Organization

Will Shortly Enter Twentieth Year As Local Service Club

First Organized in 1919, Club Now Boasts 114 Active Members—Activities Woven Around Motto "We Build"

Soon entering its twentieth year as an organized service club, the Kiwanis Club of Edmonton which conducts charitable and educational operations in the city and surrounding territory, has 114 members on its roster, all of which are active.

First organized in 1919, the club has grown to its present size by its membership, including men, from practically every profession and trade building its activities around the motto "We Build," various projects have been undertaken for educational purposes, both for the public in general and members of the club.

Most outstanding of the work carried on by the Kiwanis Club is the home for underprivileged children maintained by the club at 103 avenue and 130 street. It accommodates over 10 children, who for various reasons cannot receive proper care in their homes. The Kiwanis home works to build up the bodies of undernourished children and supply them with any other assistance that is humanly possible. The work has proven very gratifying and will be the recipient of all the good-will from the two-thousand theatre review at the Empire theatre, with Foster Hewitt as master of ceremonies.

The usual means of raising funds for the purpose of keeping up the home, is the annual "Apple Week" staged by the club during the first week in October. The event has become an outstanding event in the

FIRST OF KIND

In addition to being the best of their kind to reach the city, which probably accounts for their success.

Citizens will remember the safety campaign launched by the Kiwanis club of Edmonton recently the success of which must be due to the sharp reduction in the number of fatalities in automobile accidents this year, as compared to last year.

The outstanding radio service offered by the Kiwanis is the formation of a radio and alfalfa club. Under the chairmanship of Col. Louis Scott, the work is being developed with satisfactory results.

SWINE CLUBS ORGANIZED

At the present time "swine clubs" are organized at Square Grove and Waskanan, with one to be organized at Athabasca shortly. Purebred swine are given to members of the club, who contract to look after them and raise the offspring to standard weight. Every fall a field day is held among the members of the club and prizes given to the best three raised. Also the recipients of original swine turn over one of the litter, to be used in raising another club, or providing for new members in the coming year.

Prize winners last fall ranged in age from nine to sixteen years. It has been found that not only does it encourage the members to raise one of the best swine, but it has had an effect on the district of the club, raising the standard of swine throughout.

The same work is being done with the alfalfa club, which have been recently started in alfalfa seeds of the city. To encourage the growth of the alfalfa crop, several hundred pounds of seed were bought by the club and distributed to 10 boys to be planted on two-acre plots. On maturity, the boys will return an amount of seed equal to that they were given, which will in turn be contracted out to new clubs. In this way, farmers in the vicinity of the city may therefore, by a permissive process, be able to acquire seed, a shortage of which is being reported at the present time.

MALE CHORUS

Internal work done by the club includes a male chorus of 22 members, a public speaking club, sport competition, among many other activities.

The "How Wow" public speaking activities under the chairmanship of P. G. Wimpsey is a training school for speakers that is conducted in the winter months. During the past season, which concluded only recently, there were 23 members of the club participating. The male chorus is under direction of Ed. McCarver, well known Edmonton musician, and performs at most of the club functions.

It is expected that several programs more will be necessary to finish the list of talent already in hand. The Bulletin-Kiwanis Radio Theatre Review does not finish the list. It is just one of the highlights in it.

JACK STRACHAN prominent Edmonton musician who introduced every winner of The Bulletin Search for Talent contest on the stage of the Strand theatre.

It has been the endeavor of The Edmonton Bulletin in sponsoring the Search for Talent contest, to give each and every ambitious student a chance to make a place for himself in the entertainment field. It was hoped that auditions would be finished before Foster Hewitt came here, but the registrations were so heavy that it has been impossible. THE PROGRAMS ARE NOT OVER. Auditions are being carried on and more programs will be presented.

To date, 13 programs have taken the air, with an average of eight artists on each program. There have been several duos and trios, as well as two orchestras. There have been about 200 contestants auditioned, many of whom were sent home with the advice to work harder on their acts and come back for another audition later in the series.

The auditioning board, consisting of representatives of C.F.R.N. The Bulletin and members of the musical circle in the city, gave careful consideration to each applicant; and it is only after the most careful scrutiny that they are told to practice more or to come on a program at once.

According To Culbertson

By REX CULBERTSON
The weakest point in the average player's game, in the bidding department, is "preference bidding." He seems to have trouble in digesting the fact that there is a vast difference between a mere preference raise and a true raise. "Showing a preference" takes in a wide range of things is generally realized. It is merely confined to a choice between two suits that partner has shown. It extends also to the matter of taking out partner's business double. Consider North's 1-2-1 opportunity in the following hand:

Both sides vulnerable

MUSIC FEST COMPETITION IS EXCELLENT

When 40 and 43 marks for her own performance, a total of 187, she was crowned the winner. Her playing performed the Chopin F Sharp Major Impromptu and one number of her own choice.

KEEN WORK

Of Miss Robinson, Maurice Jacobson, who accompanied her, declared that here was "keen work". In the first number the pianist was in his element, and there was a great workman. There was "fine of his own work" here, according to the judge.

After her performance of the second number of her own choice, Mr. Jacobson declared it was the only number in the competition that had been played consistently well from first to last. "This was a really good performance," he said. "I had never heard this number. In Autumn by Moszkowski, played many times, but seldom have I heard it played better."

Afterward, Miss Robinson stated that she was a little bit nervous when she played the Chopin, but she was nervous when she played the "Keen work".

She also won the amateur concert prize, both singing and instrumental.

Her song, a tribute to Vasa's poem "My Dream of a Year Ago," won 15 marks from Mr. Jacobson, her piano playing, the 187 marks.

QUINTS GET ICE CREAM FIRST TIME

Birthday Celebration Of Dionne Babes Is Family Affair

By ORMA TONGUE

Canadian Press Correspondent

CALLANDER, Ont., May 28.—Orange juice and coffee out at 4:30 each morning started the Dionne quintuplets on their fourth birthday. The day their father calls "the most joyful we have known since the quintuplets were born." Before it is over the quintuplets will have their first taste of ice-cream.

Up upon after the run and frolic in their extra special party dress, the quintuplets had breakfast for the first time in a day marked by a quiet but happy family celebration with a religious note of thankfulness for their almost miraculous survival.

For the Dionne family the day is the happiest since May 28, 1934, when the quintuplets were born, because they know now their long fight to have the children survive has ended. The family will be prayed in one home within a few minutes.

SYMPHONY MUSIC

"This is symphony music, not chamber music," he said. "I have never heard enough, nor language music."

Mr. Henderson, he said, had "red blood" in his playing throughout. He came in a lot of the true and passionate was quite in some later expression. But he was "altogether" in his hearted playing on the whole. He was too close to the wood sometimes.

The Mozart had not a finely-molded span over the tone, said Mr. Henderson. Although this was a magnificent achievement of the chamber music ensemble.

An outstanding solo, however, was played by a middle-aged 15-year-old, said Mr. Henderson. In the Mendelssohn concert, on Friday.

The truth, with the chamber music, was a very good one. The Mendelssohn, concert 2, 8 and 9, for example, was a very good one. Chamber solo, conducted by Mrs. Henderson, 164 and 76.

PLACE OF EMBROID

ELECTRIC FISH BY QUINN KERRISON

UNIQUE AMONG THE WORLD'S NATURAL PHENOMENA ARE THOSE FEW SPECIES OF FISH CAPABLE OF GENERATING ELECTRICITY, AND TRANSMITTING SHOCKS... SOME POWERFUL ENOUGH TO CAUSE DEATH.

THE ELECTRIC AFRICAN CAT-FISH HAS ITS ENTIRE BODY COVERED IN GLANDS, WHICH PRODUCE SHOCKS/ NATIVES BELIEVE ITS FLESH HAS MEDICINAL VALUE.

COPY, 1938 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE TORPEDO RAY HURLS ITSELF AGAINST OTHER FISHES AND DEVOURS THEM WHILE THEY ARE PARALYZED FROM THE SHOCK/ THE ANCIENTS BELIEVED THAT, BY STANDING UPON THE RAY BAREFOOTED, THEY COULD CURE GOUT.

THE ELEPHANT MORMYRID, AN AFRICAN FISH WITH A TRUNK LIKE AN ELEPHANT, IS ENDOWED WITH TWO ELECTRIC ORGANS, ONE ON EITHER SIDE OF THE TAIL.

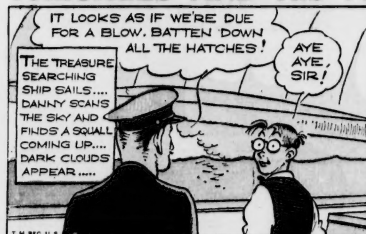

THE STARGAZER FISH CREATES ELECTRIC POWER BY MEANS OF GLANDS LOCATED JUST BEHIND ITS EYES.
